

Škoda Auto on the way to carbon neutrality: the new ŠKO-ENERGO heating plant

ŠKO-ENERGO company, the Škoda Auto energy supplier, is launching a key project to rebuild the heating plant for 100% usage of biomass.

Construction will begin next year.

The new heating plant is to be commissioned within three years, and by switching to the processing of wood chips and pellets from plant residues, energy production will become fully carbon neutral.